MASS INTENTION PROCEDURES

Priests may offer Mass for anyone, whether living or dead (canon 945 §1). An offering is given freely, by the faithful, primarily out of their concern for the Church and their desire to support its material needs. Mass offerings are gifts to the Church and its priests (can 946). Offerings also give the faithful an added means of participating more closely in the action of the priest.

When a person is present for the celebration of the Eucharist, their intentions are brought before God. Each celebration of the Eucharist is for all those present and for the particular intentions and needs of all the Church. A Mass is never celebrated only for a particular intention, but a particular intention can be remembered during the celebration of any Mass.

Thus, the Church continues the tradition of Mass offerings.
