

WELCOME TO ST. MICHAEL THE ARCHANGEL CATHOLIC COMMUNITY

NOVEMBER 2, 2025 ALL SOULS' DAY

The background is a collage of religious art. On the left, there's a vertical strip of a painting showing angels. On the right, another vertical strip shows a group of saints, including a pope and a woman holding a chalice. The central area is a dark, textured blue with a bokeh effect of warm, glowing lights. Overlaid on this is the text 'ALL SAINTS DAY & ALL SOULS DAY' in white serif font.

The Importance of Mourning. Our Christian Faith teaches us not to be afraid of the death that takes our bodies, but to be afraid of the death that might destroy our soul. Our body and our soul are intertwined so much so that the body cannot have life without the soul, and the soul cannot reach its ultimate fullness without the body. This is how God has created human beings. Our soul, unlike that of animals and plants, is given the gift of reason, of freewill, and of the ability to know and to be, by grace, like our Creator. These abilities demand of us more than what is expected of our pets and our fruit trees. It is these very abilities that color humanity's sensitivity to death in this life.

For as long as can be remembered, the passing of a fellow human being has taken on a special significance that is reflected in what we do after someone dies. The pattern of Jesus' death and subsequent burial sets a pattern for us, His followers. Jesus is not simply disposed of as an unwanted corpse, like the lifeless bodies of those destroyed in a holocaust. Jesus' body is lovingly removed from the cross. The closest disciples and followers join with Mary in mourning with loud cries and tears, remembering of how He once was, before that black Friday. Then his body is prepared, anointed, and handled with great care as he is laid in His tomb. The women then return to the cemetery to pray for their beloved dead knowing their interconnectedness with Him. Indeed, it is this vigil they hold at the cemetery after His burial that reveals to them His resurrection.

We are baptized into the pattern of Jesus' life, death, burial, and resurrection. These are not just fancy words but describe a reality to which we discipline (a word which comes from the word "disciple") ourselves. As Christians, our deaths are no less meaningful than Christ's. Our funerals are no less necessary for those who mourn than was the necessity of Mary holding in her arms the lifeless body of her Son. The kindness of those who knew us in this life expressed to our loved ones is no less necessary than those who comforted Mary at the foot of the cross and the mouth of the tomb. The care with which we are laid to rest is no less significant than the care we read about in the gospel accounts of Jesus' burial. Our burial site is no less important a place for our loved ones to hold vigil for us in prayer than was Jesus' tomb for the women who came there to pray.

As Catholic Christians we have a wonderful resource that is designed to help us when a loved one dies. It is based on this pattern of which I speak. The Funeral Rites of the Church are there to remind us how closely we are connected into Christ. At death we still dwell in Christ, our bodies are lifeless, but Christ promises us that because we are in Him and He in us (in our body-soul) our bodies will be transformed on the last day. Our bodies are essential to our full salvation.

Too much emphasis of how Christ dwells in us can lead us to think that in bodily death Christ has no need of our bodies any longer. Rather, we must keep in mind that first, we dwell in Christ's body by virtue of Baptism. Consequently, secondly, he dwells in us by the power of the Holy Spirit. Remembering the truth of our Christian faith we can better understand the need to respect the earthly dwelling of Christ, which was our body, knowing that it will one day rise again. Then, by God's power, flesh and soul are no longer divided.

That is why we do not fear, like one who has no hope, the finality of bodily death. By us being united to Christ in this world through our bodies (it is the body that is washed in the baptismal waters, and so also the soul, not the other way around) so in the next life he will once again unite us as one body & soul in Him, Father, Son and Spirit. Thus, the Funeral Rites of our Church are important and should be honored. The Vigil (wake) has a specific purpose as the Church teaches us,

"The time immediately following death is often one of bewilderment and may involve shock or heart rendering grief for the family and close friends. The ministry (task) of the Church (in particular our parish community) at this time is one of gently accompanying the mourners in their initial adjustment to the fact of death and the sorrow this entails. The minister helps the mourners to express their sorrow and to find strength and consolation through faith in Christ and his resurrection to eternal life. The members of the Christian community (friends & parishioners) offer support to the mourners especially by praying (with and for them) that the one they have lost may have eternal life."

There is wisdom in these words that are lost in the present popular belief that sadness (especially for children) should be avoided; as if somehow mourning and allowing others to comfort us is not psychologically beneficial. Yet, even psychologists know the benefit of mourning and sadness.

Jesus himself tells us, "Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted." Both mourning and offering comfort are part of our Christian life. To mourn without the benefit of comfort is not healthy for the body or the soul. To give comfort to those who mourn is a corporal work of mercy. When we allow ourselves to mourn and let others come to comfort and pray for us, as we pray together for the deceased, we engage in the most ancient of human practices. This engagement enables us to come to know our place with Christ, our place in this life, and our place in the life to come.

LIFE IS PRECIOUS; HANDLE WITH PRAYER

Karen Hernandez, Bob Kuhn, Rose Ilgi, Ken Andersen, Marisa Adams, Pat Matz, Rina Testolin, Leo Paratore, Mary Hahn, and all those in need of the healing touch of God. Please call 219-322-4505, ext. 8220 to place a loved one on the Prayer List. Please see page 2 for guidelines regarding Pray for the Sick List.

New Leadership in Music Ministry

Meet Danette Lashbrook, Director of Music and Liturgy.

Danette Lashbrook, a mother of three daughters and proud grandmother of one, has been sharing her musical talents for liturgy since sixth grade. Inspired by the Holy Spirit, Danette began playing the organ and piano during the early days of Vatican II; a time of renewal she still remembers fondly. A lifelong teacher with 45 years in the Diocese of Gary, she has taught both music and junior high religion, finding joy in helping others grow in faith. What inspires her most is hearing sung prayer, which fills her with energy and reminds her that music can touch hearts wherever people are in their journey. For Danette, each day is a prayer. She sees God in others and in creation, and through the Music Ministry, she continues to find joy in praising God together as one voice of faith and love.

Meet Joe Udani, Assistant Director of Music and Liturgy.

Joe Udani attended St. Michael School starting in kindergarten and has always felt at home in its faith-filled community. Always having an interest in music, in fifth grade the former Director of Music and Liturgy, Miss. Mangione, encouraged him to use his musical gift to play keyboard at Mass. In the summer of 2013, Joe began playing the piano for Mass on his own, finding joy in using music to bring others closer to God. He believes music has the power to move hearts and deepen prayer in a way words alone cannot. For Joe, serving through music is both a privilege and a blessing, and he is grateful to worship alongside the wonderful people of St. Michael Parish. He is currently in training to become the next full time Director of Music and Liturgy at St. Michael.

The St. Michael Music Ministry is very excited to be moving in a positive direction with new leadership roles. Our choir continues to grow, and we are filled with anticipation for the upcoming Christmas concert. We warmly invite you to join our Music Ministry. Rehearsals are held on Thursdays at 7:00 PM in the Church. All are welcome.

The Word

(Readings for November 9th, 2025, Dedication of the Lateran Basilica)

reflections

I. Ezekiel 47:1–2, 8–9, 12

“The prophet sees water flowing from the Temple, bringing life wherever it goes. The river makes the sea fresh, and every living creature thrives beside it; symbols of God’s healing and life-giving presence.”

II. 1 Corinthians 3:9c–11, 16–17

“Paul reminds believers that they are God’s building and that Christ is the only true foundation. He warns that anyone who destroys God’s temple—His people—will be destroyed, for the Spirit of God dwells within them.”

III. John 2:13–22

“When Jesus enters the Temple and drives out the money changers, He declares, ‘Destroy this temple and in three days I will raise it up.’ Though the people misunderstand, He speaks of His body, foretelling His death and resurrection.”

St. Jude, Pray for Us.

Most holy Apostle, St Jude, faithful servant and friend of Jesus,
the Church honors and invokes you universally,
as the patron of hopeless causes,
of things almost despaired of.
Pray for me, I am so helpless and alone.
Help me, I implore you,
by that particular privilege given to you,
to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired of.

Come to my assistance in this great need,
that I may receive the consolation
and help of Heaven in all my necessities, tribulation and sufferings,
particularly (state request) and that I may praise
God with you and all the elect forever.
I promise, O blessed St Jude, to be ever mindful of this great favour,
to always honour you as my special & powerful patron & to gratefully encourage devotion to you.
Amen
